Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1891 edition. Excerpt: . . . the cylinder is rotated. The bottom of the box is hinged, so that the cylinder can be removed in order to allow the second slit to be observed with a positive eye-piece passing through the back of the box. This slit can be opened or closed by turning a head at the side of the box, and by means of a slide passing before the slit the box can be closed and removed from the spectroscope without danger of exposing the film to the light. A means of producing a slow and uniform motion is the other requisite of the method, and a modified form of clepsydra is attached to the observing telescope for this purpose. A well packed piston slides in a smoothly bored and polished brass cylinder, the piston-rod passing through stuffing boxes in each head. The cylinder is filled with a mixture...
