Excerpt: . . . 11 chart which, instead of saying HIV pending, because he had been tested, said HIV positive. Of course, the test turned out to be negative. She insisted that the chart be changed. But imagine if that information was routinely used by insurance companies, employers or credit card companies. That mans future would have been seriously affected by an inaccurate statement on his medical chart. And so, it is absolutely critical that we find the right ways to protect medical privacy and the related issue of financial privacy. I am looking forward to this hearing, Mr. Chairman, and to future hearings and to playing as important a role as I can on fashioning a balanced and bipartisan piece of legislation that deals with this critical issue. Thank you very much. Mr. S. I thank my colleague. TEARNS Mr. John, opening statement if you have one Mr. J....
