Excerpt: . . . members, but these services, unlike the corresponding services of tho University of Paris, never became parts of the national system. THE FIRST POSTAGE RATES. Thomas Withcrings, postmaster to Charles I. , opened the royal posts to the public. The first postage rates were as follows: for a single letter, i. e. a, letter on a single sheet of paper, 2d. for distances of 80 miles, or less. For 140 miles, or less, 4d. For any linger distance, in England, (3d. ; and to Scotland, 8d. For double letters these charges were doubled. . . It is often said that it was never intended in the establishment of the Post Office that it should yield a profit. This may be true of an ideal Post Office; but it certainly is not an historical fact. Since 1650 there has not been a year when the..
